FLEAGLE ESCAPE PLOT REVEALED

SOUTHERN CROSS TO HOP TO NEW YORK TODAY

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Add new similes: As hard as trying to appear nonchalant while applying for a marriage license.

Now that the Southern Cross has completed its successful hop across the Atlantic, we can expect that scores of other birdmen will attempt the same thing.

And throughout the summer the newspapers will have something to play up.

The "City of Chicago" has been up more than two weeks now. Within a short time they will have broken the St. Louis "Robins" record for endurance.

No doubt you will remember that the army plane "The Question Mark" started the fad not so long ago.

Then one by one records for the flight were made to be shattered a week later by another flier.

The City of Chicago's crew announced that they will stay up until July 4 or longer.

After they land, they will receive public acclaim — and will be treated as heroes by the public — until someone else breaks the record.

There are two aviators who will always be heroes to the American public. They are Lindbergh and Byrd.

Aviators may come and aviators may go, but Byrd and Lindbergh will always remain heroes.

PLANE FALLS SHORT OF GOAL

NEW YORK, June 25.—UP.—The Western Union Telegraph company advised the United Press today that Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith hopped off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, for New York at 3:05 a. m. EST.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., June 25.—UP.—While the Southern Cross flier slept today, mechanics refueled the airplane and preparations were made for the continuation of the flight to New York at dawn tomorrow.

Baffled by fog thick as soup and more dangerous than buffeting winds, the Southern Cross, veteran of the air, paused here, 1100 miles short of New York and the goal aspired to by Capt. Charles E. Kingsford-Smith, daring Australian flier and his three companions.

The trim silver monoplane, its three motors roaring through the night, spanned the North Atlantic in 31 hours and 35 minutes, and, having flown the 2190 miles from Port Marnock on the Irish coast, settled out of the morning mists here at 6 a. m. E. S. T.

NEW CANNERY WILL START OPERATIONS HERE TODAY

The new Filice and Perrelli cannery on the Richmond inner harbor, will start operations today, when Genaro Filice, president of the company gives the order to throw the main switch.

Filice declared that he did not expect much canning to be done the first day or even during the first week, as the opening period will be more or less devoted to adjusting machinery, etc.

Staffs have been selected, machinery inspected, boilers tested and everything is pronounced in readiness for the first shipment of apricots received from the Brentwood district.

"We will make a test run and then determine what necessary changes must be made. We hope they will be minor ones. At any rate, by the time the apricot and peach season is in full swing, we will be ready for it," said Filice.

Filice said that by the end of the week, the packing would assume larger proportions and he expected the plant to be in full operation by about 10 days.

He also expressed to the chamber of commerce, his appreciation of the way the people of Richmond had welcomed the cannery, and declared, "The chamber of commerce, city officials and the people of Richmond have all shown a spirit of hospitality which makes us feel at home in your city."

ATTACK ON PRISON SEEN

DENVER, Colo., June 25.—An alleged plot to effect a prison break and free Ralph E. Fleagle, Lamar bank bandit from the death cell, was today revealed to Governor Adams.

Although officials scouted the report that the state penitentiary was to be the scene of an attack by an organized group of desperadoes, information placed before the governor was to the effect that details of the plot had been worked out by master hands, and the break was to be enormous in its scope.

According to the report, the attack on the prison was scheduled for July 4, in an attempt to free Fleagle before his hanging, which is to take place next month. Details of the plot were vague, although reports stated that an attack would be centered on the prison walls with dynamite, to enable the raiders to get in to reach Fleagle in the death house.

It is also understood that the home of Warren Francis Z. Crawford at Canon City, and the penitentiary itself, are under heavy guard, following a report alleged to have been received by the warden that his four children would be kidnapped and held under the threat of death if Fleagle and his two companions were hanged.

Fleagle, Howard L. Royston, and George J. Ashbler, all formerly of Richmond, Calif., are the men under sentence of death.

MISSING MAIL PILOT SOUGHT IN HILLS

Mail Dry
"The mail was as dry as when it left the postoffice, James was quoted as saying.

Graham's former associate on the Los Angeles to Salt Lake mail run said he made a minute inspection of the partially wrecked plane.

He said the cowl in front of the cockpit was dented indicating that Graham's head may have struck it a hard blow when the plane struck the snow covered ledge of a mountain side in Crystal gulch.

Clock Stopped
The altimeters showed a height of 7400 feet and the clock in the cockpit had stopped at 7:40 a. m. James reported. He also found that the gasoline supply was not exhausted. Both emergency flares carried by Graham were gone.

He said that he accompanied Sheriff John Leigh of Iron county and Jimmy Carson and Fred Kelly, No. 1. Western Air pilots on a search within a one-mile radius of the plane but found no sign of Graham.

Believed Alive
Western Air officials said that although a $5000 reward offer posted for the recovery of his body expired 60 days after the crash, a "suitable reward" will be given to whoever finds the missing man.

Mrs. Graham declared at her Hollywood home tonight that she still believed her husband will be found alive.

"If the search is continued I am sure he will be located alive and well in some camp or habitation in the mountainous district," she told the United Press.

The mayor of Providence, R. I., has made the first formal protest against the official population statistics of his city. He just can't believe his census.

Woman Owns Flying Field

CULVER CITY—California, aside from advertising the greatest number of women pilots of any of the states, now boasts a feminine airport manager.

Until Miss Margaret Perry, a New York girl who recently spread her wings in southern California, took over the management of the Culver City airport, airport managers of the country boasted a line of endeavor women had not invaded.

"I had my own plane, why not my own airport?" she said and smiled, and now she has a prosperous business. She holds a government transport pilot's license and has a record of more than 500 hours in the air.

The invasion of this particular field by women was to be expected in California, according to a survey by the Curtiss-Wright women's department.

The survey showed that California was the home of 57 of the country's 200 licensed women pilots. Of this number, 38 are residents of southern California and 17 live in Los Angeles proper.

When tempted to over-indulge
"Reach for a Lucky instead"
Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Avoid that future shadow* by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that modern, ever-youthful figure. "Reach for a Lucky instead."
Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Lucky Strike has an extra, secret heating process. Everyone knows that heat purifies and so 20,679 physicians say that Luckies are less irritating to your throat.
"Coming events cast their shadows before"

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday and Thursday evening, over N.B.C. networks.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough
*No special dietary, but moderation in eating and drinking and not more than three meals daily," is Dr. F. McKelvey Bell's advice in the New York Medical Journal to all men and women who want to keep a proper figure. We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there is no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."
Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

There's just one fault I found with the final curtain," confided Leo as he and Queenie neared her bungalow.

"And that was?" she asked.

"Well, right between Georges Carpentier and Winnie Lightner there was room for another star. Did you notice?"

"Yes. What about it?"

"I was just wondering how I'd look in a star, that's all."

"Oh, you look splendid without a star," returned Queenie lightly.

"Say that," demanded Leo, and "get some meaning into your tone."

Queenie obliged.

SHOW SHOWS

Copyright 1929, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"Show of Shows" the Warner Bros. Vitaphone picture was the source for the material on which these stories are based.

SYNOPSIS
Harry Cronk introduces Leo Hamilton to Queenie Quinn, Hollywood script girl, who finds Leo an extra role in "Show of Shows." Leo finds life on the movie "lot" a fascinating pageant. With Queenie's help, he studies picture production. After appearing in scenes starring John Barrymore, Monte Blue, Irene Dunne and other Hollywood favorites, Leo's engagement nears its close. On Queenie's suggestion he registers at a casting agency, though remaining on the "Show of Shows" lot till the film's completion.

INSTALLMENT TWELVE
Pleased with Leo's enthusiastic reaction to pictures, Harry Cronk nevertheless couldn't resist subjecting him to the bidding a novice in any endeavor inevitably comes in for. Leo didn't mind, since it allowed him a chance to discuss the making of pictures, and that was his greatest career joy.

"I notice," observed Cronk, over their bridge game, "that they're thinking somewhat of filming the

Each "team" was accompanied by a chorus, dressed in the costumes of the country they represented. The eight choruses also took part in the finale.

Ted Lewis' supremely happy jazz players also summoned him. Lewis, whose soloists "his everybody happy?" had grown into his trade mark, was found aboard a pirate ship in a deep sea scene, amusing such hard-boiled seadogs as Noah Deery, Tully Marshall, Wheeler Oakman and Bull Montana, not to mention such charming captives as Carmel Myers, Ruth Clifford, Sally Eilers, Frances Lee and dozen of others.

In another day Leo was advised by Queenie that the picture had been completed. The players had escaped to the mountains and beaches to rest and the crew was busy dismantling the settings. Leo, regrettably, went job-hunting.

Two short engagements with independent producers kept him fed and frequent meetings with Queenie kept him happy during the following months. Ted, meanwhile, was leaving his room to report for the bridge game, he was called to the telephone. His agent, a non-communicative fellow named Lamson, briefly instructed him to report for a speaking part at The Supreme Studio next morning.

Briskly, he flung himself through the door of Queenie's home, and attempted to stutter out the tidings of his good luck. But Queenie, dressed to go out, as were Cronk and Dorothy, stopped him.

"Come on," she said, "we've found preview of 'Show of Shows.' It's at the Rivolt."

In the theatre, so fascinated was Leo by the sight scene in which he had taken part, he forgot entirely to communicate the news of what was, for immediate purposes, his great success. Even after the party had left the theatre he remained silent on everything except the merit of "Show of Shows."

The all-star curtain, which had so secretly been filmed he found incomparable. It was the final scene of the play. After the close of the "Lady Luck" number, a silvered drape, studded with jeweled stars, filled the proscenium arch. Each of the stars was broken by a circular aperture.

Suddenly, into these apertures appeared the smiling faces of the stars of "Show of Shows"—all of them Barrymore, Ray, Barthelmess, Renée Lillie, Ted Lewis, Alice White. It looked like a parade of the members of the cinema who's who.

"There's just one fault I found with the final curtain," confided Leo as he and Queenie neared her bungalow.

"And that was?" she asked.

"Well, right between Georges Carpentier and Winnie Lightner there was room for another star. Did you notice?"

"Yes. What about it?"

"I was just wondering how I'd look in a star, that's all."

"Oh, you look splendid without a star," returned Queenie lightly.

OCEAN FLIERS ON NEW YORK HOP TODAY

They had four gallons of gasoline left when they landed, after having flown about for hours, lost in the darkness and impenetrable fog. At one time, the Southern Cross was reported past Cape Race, on the southeastern tip of this promontory of the continent. They actually flew several hundred miles farther than the air-line distance from Ireland to Newfoundland.

PARENTS WERE NOT WORRIED.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 26.—UP—Captain Kingsford - Smith's flight across the Atlantic caused all Australia to rejoice today.

Smith's parents were particularly happy as was Miss Mary Powell, the flier's fiancée, who had stood by a telephone all day.

"We were not at all anxious," his father said, "We all knew that Charlie would get through all right."

"Oh, isn't it wonderful," Miss Powell exclaimed, "I couldn't have refused to let him attempt the only big thing to do. It would always have been there nagging at the corner of his mind if he hadn't tried, so I thought the best thing was to let him get it over. He's promised that he will not make any more big flights."

"You know," she concluded, "I am going to learn to fly."

Although overjoyed at the success of the flight, Captain G. P. T. Uhm, co-pilot on the flight of the Southern Cross from San Francisco to Australia, said he "was never so miserable" in his life, because he could not get away from his work to make the hop over the Atlantic.

A man over in Denmark says that what Adam ate was a pine cone, not an apple. Perhaps so; we have seen people eat artichokes.

John Opman Honored By K. P. Lodge

John Opman, a member of the Knights of Pythias in continual attendance for the past 25 years, was last night presented with the 25 year veteran jewel at a meeting of the Richmond lodge in the Brotherhood hall. William Long, chancellor-commander presided.

Opman is the possessor of an enviable record in Knights of Pythias work. He joined the Jerome lodge in Arizona in 1904 and transferred to the local lodge later. He has gone through the chairs, and served four years as master of finance and keeper of records and seal.

Opman is a past chancellor commander, and has been active in the work of the local lodge. He is now chairman of the committee in charge of the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the local group.

Following the meeting, a banquet was served by a committee composed of J. P. Rihn, T. T. Klink and J. Sindieich.

A large delegation of Richmond members and their families are planning to attend the picnic at the Pythian home July 4, which is sponsored by the lodges of Sonoma county.

On July 22 the district convention will be held at Martinez, and a number of Richmond members are also planning to attend this affair.

It was announced last night that July 23 would be a ladies night at the local lodge.

Woman Jailed On Odor Bomb Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—UP—Convicted on a charge of malicious mischief, placed against her after a stench bomb had been thrown into a downtown theater here, Mrs. Annie Risso, 32, was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail by a police judge here today. It was alleged that labor troubles prompted the woman's act.

Clara, Harry To Be Wed In August

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 25.—UP—Clara Bow, of the talkies, and Harry Richman New York night club owner and entertainer, are to be married some time in August, Richman said on his arrival here today. He came here to see the Maxie Rosenbloom-Jimmy Slatery fight and said that Rosenbloom would be best man at his wedding.

OLIVA LINKED WITH LIQUOR RING

deliberating in a case in which Sturtevant had been a principal witness, Lucich appeared at the federal building in San Francisco and suggested that Mrs. Berri and Lucich accompany him to Tomales bay in Marin county.

Plot Told
Lucich had informed them, she said, that he was to be in charge of large trucks filled with liquor that were to be brought into Tomales bay by rum-runners. He had complaint, according to her testimony, that he was not getting enough for it and suggested that Sturtevant help him hi-jack one of the truck loads, valued at $10,000.

The trio left the federal building in Sturtevant's car and when Tomales bay was reached Mrs. Berri stepped out of the automobile, walking forward for several yards.

She heard a shot then, she testified, and turned around to see Lucich fire a shot at Sturtevant.

Fired Shot
"I cried 'Vince, what's wrong' and he fired again at Sturtevant," Mrs. Berri said.

Then, without warning, she said, Lucich turned and fired at her, inflicting a wound from which she is still recovering.

Mrs. Berri said that instead of firing at her again, Lucich gazed at her with a stupefied expression on his face and she ran away.

Lucich fired a shot at Sturtevant.

HEALTH COLUMN By DR. G. A. ESTERBERG

Dear Doctor: My daughter suffers a great deal of pain in her chest. At times the pains disappear but will usually come back in a few days. She has not been free from pain more than two days in the year or more.—Mrs. A.

In answer to Mrs. A.—I will say that pains in the chest are common in all sorts of disorder.

Thus chest pains due to disease of the heart will be increased by anything causing the patient to breathe faster or cough; those caused by disorders of the stomach will generally be aggravated by or soon after taking food.

Pains in the chest may be due to neuralgia accompanied by herpes. Pains in the chest may be felt whenever there is pressure on an intercostal nerve.

Mrs. M. writes:

Dear Doctor: I am 50 years of age and have been having pain in the right side of my abdomen for many years. Eight years ago I had my appendix removed. Two years ago the gall bladder was removed. I am still having as much pain as ever.

In this column I cannot diagnose. Would advise you to see your physician.

Dear Doctor: What is the cause of convulsions in children?—Mrs. W.
There are many causes for convulsions in children. Among the commonest of all convulsive seizures are those occurring in children of tender age, known as infantile convulsions. About a third of the cases takes place during the first two years.

And they are rare, apart from epilepsy, after the age of five or six. They may be of serious import to infants under six months of age, and also in older children if weakly or anemic.

Convulsions may be caused by hereditary syphilis, but in about half the cases rickets is the predisposing cause. Again, convulsions may be caused by local irritation, such as inflammation of the gums, disease of the nose or ears, the presence of irritating food or worms in the intestine. Convulsions may occur at the onset of acute Dr. Esterberg, in care of this pa-

Bible School Closes Friday

Closing exercises of the downtown churches participating in the Daily Vacation Bible school will be held Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock at the First Baptist church, as announced by the dean of the combined schools, Rev. H. A. Kern.

In addition to the program, there will be an exhibit of the work accomplished in the three week's course, the awarding of the baseball trophy and glider contest awards. The exercises will take place in the gymnasium and everyone interested is invited to attend.

Fever, measles, whooping cough or nephritis. Overdosing with drugs may bring on convulsions. There are also many other causes that space will not allow to mention.

BAER WINS BY KNOCKOUT IN FIFTH

OAKLAND, June 25.—UP—After shaking off some hard rights to his jaw, Max Baer of Livermore, one of the most promising heavyweights on the Pacific coast technically knocked out Ernie Owens of Los Angeles in the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout here tonight.

Owens went down seven times before Referee Willie Ritchie stopped the contest.

Baer weighed 192 pounds and Owens 181.

The first round was slow but in the second Baer sent Owens down for a nine count. The southerner came back with a barrage of hard punches that would have finished many fighters but Baer weathered them.

Owens was dropped again, for a
